Controlling diabetes means controlling blood sugar, and for many people, that means regular testing and injections. Our diabetes products have been created to provide exceptional product quality and comfort while addressing the ever-changing needs of both patients and allied health professionals worldwide. Our wide range of insulin syringes, are designed for comfort and ease of use. Our pen needles and lancets feature a universal ISO standard fit and can be used with standard insulin pens and lancing devices.

SureComfort insulin syringes and pen needles are manufactured in a MDSAP certified facility. MDSAP is the newest and most stringent quality program for medical devices. Achieving this quality standard provides independent verification of Allison Medical's commitment to providing exceptionally high quality insulin syringes and pen needles. Our SureComfort product lines offer a large variety of options for all specific needs and comes in tri-lingual packaging.

Trust and comfort. Every single customer. Every single time.
