LAST CALL: Place your calendar in customers' homes before the holidays when families gather, your pharmacy stays top of mind with the people who matter most.

Why Calendars?

A personalized calendar keeps your pharmacy visible in customers' homes every day. Unlike a one-time digital message, it provides useful content while reinforcing your name, contact information, and commitment to service. Thus helping build recognition, loyalty and repeat business.

How You Can Put Your Calendar to Work:

Put calendars directly into the hands of current patients, new customers, and local community members. Share them at prescription pickup or delivery, during consultations and flu-shot clinics, at wellness events and through a visible counter display. Give staff extra copies to share with family, friends and community partners.
